Introduction

Welcome to Barack's Forecast Report

This report shows the astrological trends influencing his life over the next year.

The duration of each trend is indicated by a starting date, an ending date and strongest influence date. Further, an influence may begin before the time frame of the report or end beyond it.

The accuracy of the timing of the forecasts is dependent on the accuracy of the birth time. Be prepared to slide the sequence of trends either forwards or backwards in time if necessary. In some instances, there may be interpretations that repeat themselves. This is due to the cyclical and forward and backward motion of the planets activating points on his chart more than once in the period under review.

As you will find, the forecast interpretations can be positive and/or challenging. Their effects can be experienced either directly personally or through events in the lives of others in the environment. Some trends will be more apparent than others, while others may be more subtle. What is most important is how he responds to them.

New and interesting people will enter his life now and introduce him to many new experiences, some of which he may never have thought possible. Whether he enjoys these experiences or not will depend on how he feels about change in general. All of these are signs of a strong inner desire to break out of his old routines and to revitalise and re-invent himself. His relationship to a male may change under this influence.

31 January 2012 - 11 March 2012, strongest around 21 February 2012,
Transiting Uranus is Square his Natal Venus

With the arrival of this Uranus transit to his natal Venus may come the realisation that perhaps all is not as well as it could be in his love and relationship life. This is the classic "love at first sight" combination; however it is also associated with attractions that form suddenly and terminate just as quickly. Therefore, do not expect permanency in love from this transit. Aside from relationship matters, this combination is a boon to artistically creative people searching for new and original ideas and expressions.

15 February 2012 - 27 February 2012, strongest around 21 February 2012,
Transiting Jupiter is Trine his Natal Moon

The general effects of this transit are unlikely to produce much in the way of concrete events, but he is likely to have a general feeling of well-being during its passage. Perhaps the best way to get the most out of it is to use the period for improving family relations, doing up his home, or travelling. Women can be beneficial in his life at present.

19 February 2012 - 2 March 2012, strongest around 25 February 2012,
Transiting Jupiter is Sextile his Natal Mars

"Successful action" is the main feature of this transit. However, because it is a "soft" aspect he needs to motivate himself and act with a sense of purpose, if he wants to experience its benefits. This is an excellent period for business matters, negotiations and for starting new projects, providing there aren't other more powerful transits from the stronger planets to contend with also. His sense of timing is very good now and, as luck will seem to have it, he will probably conveniently find himself in the right place at the right time. Relations with others can improve now and disputes can be sorted out.

Transiting Jupiter is Square Progressed Mars

This is an essentially positive transit; however there are pitfalls to be aware of that can lessen its positive effect. Firstly, there can be a proneness to immoderate activity. Secondly, he may feel motivated to take risks that he wouldn't ordinarily take. Thirdly, he can project an over-inflated sense of his own self-importance to others. In all instances the outcomes could be an unravelling of his good efforts. Yet, if he can keep a sense of perspective, plan his moves well and remain circumspect during this period, the potential for success in any undertaking is almost certain. This is an excellent period for business matters, negotiations and for starting new projects, providing there aren't other more powerful transits from the stronger planets to contend with also. His sense of timing is very good now and, as luck will seem to have it, he will probably conveniently find himself in the right place at the right time. Relations with others can improve now and disputes can be sorted out. If he is sports oriented, this transit can improve his game and take him to another level of fitness.

26 February 2012 - 2 March 2012, strongest around 28 February 2012,
Transiting Mars is Sextile his Natal Neptune

His physical and competitive drives are more subdued and relaxed at the moment. This is an excellent period to take some time out in quiet and tranquil surroundings.

5 March 2012 - 15 March 2012, strongest around 10 March 2012, Transiting Jupiter is Trine his Natal Uranus

This is an excellent transit for making positive changes in his life and the lives of those around him. His mind is open to the idea of experimentation and discovery; consequently he could travel, start a new course of study or rally support for a cause. He could use this period for learning something new, such as a foreign language or a useful skill. His powers of comprehension are accentuated now, enabling him to understand things more quickly than usual.

13 March 2012 - 19 March 2012, strongest around 16 March 2012, Transiting Mars is Conjunct his Natal Uranus

During this transit he won't take kindly to having his independence and freedom challenged. He is inclined to be more wilful than usual. There is an increased risk of injury or accident proneness now. He needs to take care when travelling and around machinery or volatile materials.

He can expect an energy boost now, coupled with an increase in self-motivation. This is an excellent transit for getting things done, or for participating in sport or some form of physical exercise.

22 March 2012 - 23 August 2012, strongest around 27 April 2012 and 13 July 2012, Transiting Neptune is Square his Natal Midheaven

The Midheaven corresponds with his reputation; therefore he needs to guard against acting in anyway that may be dishonest or immoral, as this could lead to a fall from grace. There may be instability at home or in the family. A change of residence is possible. Positively, this is a good period for looking into spiritual or metaphysical subjects and expressing any artistic or creative potential he has, especially music, dance, drama, photography or painting.

22 March 2012 - 23 August 2012, strongest around 27 April 2012 and 13 July 2012, Transiting Neptune is Trine his Natal Venus

This can be a somewhat dreamy and romantic time for him. He may become mildly infatuated with another or someone may have idealistic thoughts about him. Either way, it is more likely to be pleasant and amusing than deceptive or disillusioning. Yet, if other factors support it, spiritual love can occur now. Romance aside, this configuration advantages anyone who is artistically gifted or inclined. Music, the visual arts, painting, dance, theatre and fashion can all flourish during this transit.

23 March 2012 - 1 April 2012, strongest around 27 March 2012, Transiting Mars is Conjunct his Natal Moon

Moodiness and irritability accompany this transit. Arguments or conflicts with others are likely. There could also be disruptions in his domestic life or disputes with family members. Watch out for accidents around the home.

24 March 2012 - 21 August 2012, strongest around 30 April 2012 and 10 July 2012, Transiting Neptune is Conjunct his Natal Saturn

This can be a very trying period affecting his emotional and possibly physical well-being. As much as possible, he should try to surround himself with positive and uplifting people and avoid the company of draining or negative persons. It is important to take care of his general health during this period.

25 March 2012 - 3 April 2012, strongest around 30 March 2012, Transiting Jupiter is Trine his Natal Pluto

This is the "positive use of power" transit. He may find himself, at this time, demonstrating that he has what it takes to encourage people to follow his lead. And they will, providing his intentions are for the common good. The secret to getting things done together with others is for him to lead by example, yet to remain one of the guys. However, should he set himself apart from others, he will only end up feeling alienated. A person that he respects or who holds power may take a shine to him at this time.

28 March 2012 - 6 April 2012, strongest around 2 April 2012, Transiting Jupiter is Trine his Natal Mercury

Unless other factors - such as Saturn transits occurring now - are affecting his chart, this should prove to be quite a good period for him. His thinking will be positive and optimistic. It is an excellent time for making long-term plans and decisions. Short trips or long-distance travel tend to be relatively free of difficulties and international contacts can be successfully established. It is also an excellent time to smooth over any communication difficulties he may have with others.

4 April 2012 - 13 April 2012, strongest around 8 April 2012, Transiting Jupiter is Opposition his Natal Neptune

At this time, he is especially susceptible to external influences and prone to seduction. He is at risk from viewing life and others through "rose-tinted glasses". Also, should this transit coincide with a medical concern, he could benefit from obtaining a second opinion. Positively, his inner and spiritual life is enhanced now; more so than at just about any other time. He has a great wealth of feeling and compassion, coupled with a deep and sincere desire to look after or help those in need. His interest in metaphysical subjects is likely to grow now and he may experience unusual insights. If he is in any way musical, artistic or creative, he can expect his powers of inspiration and imagination to get a boost now. Travel under this influence is usually beneficial.

7 April 2012 - 17 May 2012, strongest around 26 April 2012, Transiting Uranus is Square his Natal Mars

"Fore-warned is fore-armed" is a frequently quoted phrase among people interested in astrology and, to an extent, this pairing of planets can be a testament to its meaning. Without a doubt this can be a difficult transit because it has the potential for explosive and volatile emotional or physical reactions, either by him or others. However, the types of experiences it can bring depend on the sort of personality that he is. If he is an essentially calm and composed person he will probably only experience periods of becoming irritated and impatient with others, but not to such a degree that he's likely to blow his stack or "lose it". However, if he has a reputation for reactionary and aggressive behaviour, he is more likely to experience altercations or physical attacks and accidents. If he misuses this energy, he runs the risk of causing mishap or injury to either himself or others. When all is said and done, the best way to counteract the destructive side of this combination is to be as circumspect as possible and to slow down when he feels himself getting worked up or angry. In special circumstances, this transit can signify a need for surgery, but other factors need to be present to support such an event.

9 April 2012 - 26 April 2012, strongest around 17 April 2012, Transiting Black Moon is Trine his Natal Mercury

Interpretation for this topic has not been created yet.

11 April 2012 - 19 April 2012, strongest around 15 April 2012, Transiting Jupiter is Square his Natal Sun

During this period his desire for gain, power and advantage is accentuated. He has the urge to improve his position in life. Above all, he wants to better himself and expand his horizons - which he may do through travel, higher education, financial activity or speculation. However, he must take great care to keep a sense of perspective on everything and not to over-estimate himself or his capabilities. There is a danger that he may take on more than he can comfortably handle and risk getting out of his depth. Also, he could be prone to wastefulness and extravagance now. In extreme circumstances, some people can be prone to disproportional amounts of arrogance during this transit, and conflicts with authority figures or brushes with the law are not unheard of. This said there are definite opportunities for growth and personal development under this influence.

11 April 2012 - 24 May 2012, strongest around 1 May 2012, Transiting Uranus is Trine Progressed Mars

This transit can be quite liberating especially if he's been feeling restricted in any way. Freedom of action and independence is important to him now and he will seem to have more energy than usual. He may become interested in reformatory causes. He is open to trying new things now.

15 April 2012 - 24 April 2012, strongest around 20 April 2012, Transiting Jupiter is Trine Progressed Mercury

Unless other factors - such as Saturn transits occurring now - are affecting his chart, this should prove to be quite a good period for him. His thinking will be positive and optimistic. It is an excellent time for making long-term plans and decisions. Short trips or long-distance travel tend to be relatively free of difficulties and international contacts can be successfully established. It is also an excellent time to smooth over any communication difficulties he may have with others.

21 April 2012 - 29 April 2012, strongest around 25 April 2012, Transiting Jupiter is Square Progressed Venus

Matters of the heart feature strongly now. He may become the object of someone's romantic desires, or he, in turn, could be smitten with another. Established relationships, too, can go through a period of increased warmth and affection. Alternatively, romance may not feature at all at this time; instead his life becomes a whirl of social engagements or pleasure seeking activities. He may be inclined to indulge himself and over-spend on such things as luxury items, fine clothes or beauty products. If he is artistically inclined, this can be a successful creative period for him, with his work being acknowledged and respected by others. Travel for enjoyment and pleasure is favoured now, if affordable. Less positively, arguments caused by exaggerated expectations, negligence or differences of opinion can mar relationships. There can be conflicts in love.

Approximately every 12 years, transiting Jupiter returns to the degree of the zodiac it occupied at the time of his birth. This transit is called his "Jupiter Return". In general, the "Jupiter Return" is a very positive influence and, because of it, he can expect to feel confident and optimistic over this period. To get the most benefit from this transit, he is encouraged to view life positively and to give some consideration to his long-term goals and aims. It is now the time for planting seeds that will bear fruit over the next 12-year Jupiter cycle. Expect his understanding of the world to broaden - this may be experienced through such things as long-distance travel, higher education, or simply by being more outreaching and embracing of life and others. Essentially, this transit brings the rewards of hard work proportional to the amount of effort he puts in. However, if he simply sits around enjoying the feelings of well-being it induces, he will have little to show for it in his life after it passes. Business and financial investments usually prosper under this transit, and some people actually receive sudden windfalls, but that tends to be the exception rather than the rule. All in all, the "Jupiter Return" is a fortunate transit - but it only gives back as much as he puts into it.

Any progress he makes comes at a price and it will probably feel that life is moving along at the rate of three steps forward and two steps back. Also, there can be temporary setbacks and possible financial constraints or worries. At an inner level, he is likely to feel discontented, for no apparent reason, and his self-confidence may be temporarily dented. However, as he will discover, this state of affairs will not last for long. The best way for him to deal with things now is with patience and to persevere in his endeavours.

transit. Travel, business or financial matters can all be beneficial now, if other factors support these. Also, he is presently well-aspected for making contacts with people who can help him socially or professionally.

His sense of timing is very good now and, as luck will seem to have it, he will probably conveniently find himself in the right place at the right time. Expect the unexpected with this transit, but don't presuppose that what he experiences will necessarily be to his liking, because any transit involving Uranus is going to be unpredictable. Positively, this is a period in which sudden opportunities could present themselves and offer him the chance to break out of old routines and experience new things. For instance, he may have to suddenly contend with new conditions at school or home, or he meets someone who influences him profoundly. Some people even have sudden financial windfalls or the chance to travel. Definitely, he will want to make changes for the better under this influence and he should receive plenty of signals, by way of intuitive flashes, as to how to do this. Occasionally, this transit is preceded by an intense feeling of tension which suddenly releases when it becomes exact. One word of caution, he could annoy others and consequently miss good opportunities now, if he displays a "bloody-minded" attitude or contradicts people for the hell of it.

him in line. Compulsive behaviour and power plays are common with this transit and he has to be very careful who he takes on as an opponent. Also, there can be the tendency to become zealous or obsessed with an idea, which can lead to arguments with others or cause him to lose sight of whom or what is important in his life. However, don't expect to pass an exam on the strength of this transit alone; his results will reflect his prior efforts. He will have big plans at this time; just make sure that they are reasonable and realisable. With this transit, there can be a tendency to get so wrapped up with an idea or plan that important details get overlooked or ignored. Therefore, he will benefit from listening to other people's opinions about his ideas, because they can offer constructive criticism and advice.

"Fore-warned is fore-armed" is a frequently quoted phrase among people interested in astrology and, to an extent, this pairing of planets can be a testament to its meaning. Without a doubt this can be a difficult transit because it has the potential for explosive and volatile emotional or physical reactions, either by him or others. However, the types of experiences it can bring depend on the sort of personality that he is. If he is an essentially calm and composed person he will probably only experience periods of becoming irritated and impatient with others, but not to such a degree that he's likely to blow his stack or "lose it". However, if he has a reputation for reactionary and aggressive behaviour, he is more likely to experience altercations or physical attacks and accidents. If he misuses this energy, he runs the risk of causing mishap or injury to either himself or others. When all is said and done, the best way to counteract the destructive side of this combination is to be as circumspect as possible and to slow down when he feels himself getting worked up or angry. In special circumstances, this transit can signify a need for surgery, but other factors need to be present to support such an event.
